| | One of the recommendations of the Research and Development project, undertaken in 1993-96, was that local guilds be given a choice with regard to projects. It was also felt that it would be beneficial were projects to be supported for a longer period in order for the sense of partnership to be developed. Accordingly, a new Project Partnership Scheme was adopted from 1997. | | |

| | Summer Mission Trust Students, for many years the mainstay of summer mission teams, are finding the financial pressures on them so great, that they feel unable to offer the time away from a job to serve the Church in this way. For many of them there is a stark choice to be made between spending a couple of weeks helping to run mission programmes and getting that vital summer job, which they so desperately need if they are to avoid going heavily into debt. Through this project, the Department of National Mission was helped to start a Trust Fund, the interest of which was used to give financial support to students and other volunteers in this outreach work. | National Mission | £64,723 |

For more than 50 years it has been providing air transport and logistics back up for Christian missionaries, including Church of Scotland mission partners, national Church workers, and relief and development agencies in some of the world's remotest places. The Guild supported MAF's programme in Papua New Guinea at a crucial time, by helping to fund medical evacuations, the flying of Church and mission workers, and the training of local people in management. | Mission Aviation Fellowship | £127,984.36 |

| | A Way of Life The Board of Communication's aim is to promote the contemporary reality of the gospel of Jesus Christto the wider world. In this age of the Internet, it was decided to establish a Website dedicated to the Church of Scotland. | | Rebuilding Lives The Lodging House Mission, established in 1907 to meet the emotional, practical and spiritual needs of homeless persons, is developing a range of new and exciting services to meet the needs of this community today. People from all around Scotland, and further afield who end up in Glasgow living in a hostel or sleeping rough are welcomed through its open door. Guild support for the Education and Activity Programme helps it continue to rebuild lives by offering a range of options for learning and purposeful occupation of time, hopefully allowing people to move back into mainstream accommodation and re-establish their lives. A mini bus was purchased and an internet café established. | Lodging House Mission | £157,044.49 |
| | The Rainy Hospital Nursing School Long supported by the Church, and the Guild, in the past, the Rainy Hospital, named in memory of Christina Rainy, has worked for the good of the people of Chennai, India. Training of nurses grew from this service but living and learning facilities at the Nursing School were in need of refurbishment and updating. The project contributed to the provision of better accommodation, extra classrooms and recreational facilities for its student nurses. At the Projects and Topics committee meeting of 29 October 2009 it was agreed, following a request from the World Mission Council, that the funds donated for the Nursing School be reallocated to the Hospital itself. | Board of World Mission | £142,237.39 |

| | Building Community French for the Ark, L’Arche Inverness is part of an international family of communities where people with learning disabilities, and those who come to share their lives with them live, work and pray together. The community was founded in 1975. Braerannoch, one of 5 households offering a variety of patterns of living where community members - both assistants and core members with disabilities - live as family and friends, is in need of re-design in order that we can support our older members’ mobility needs. L’Arche Crafts and Horticulture began in 1982 and has grown to include a woodwork-shop, market garden, candle-workshop and a developing retirement programme. With the Guild's help we plan to rebuild these workshops and renew Braerannoch house. L’arche values each person's gifts and it's through friendship in an environment of trust and confidence that all members, whatever their abilities, are supported and encouraged to grow. | L’Arche | £122,064.74 |

The Boards of National and World Mission believe this is unacceptable in a world of plenty created by a God of love. Together for a change is about giving people opportunities. Through local churches, we will bring together people from poor communities (two in Scotland and two in the developing world) to share one another’s experiences, to learn from one another and to make practical suggestions about how we might do things differently. | | Walking with the Displaced The Joint Relief Ministry in Cairo works with over 20,000 urban refugees from Africa - most of whom have fled Sudan during the civil war. Two of Cairo's churches have been working together for 10 years to assist this vulnerable group of people: they are All Saints' Cathedral (Anglican) and St Andrew's Church (now independent but formerly the Church of Scotland). As well as advocacy efforts, both churches offer a safe environment, educational opportunities and spiritual nurture to the displaced. All Saints has focussed on medical care and established a clinic while St Andrew's has emphasised educational and training programmes. The Guild funding would help provide and run a second clinic in a slum area, at present with limited facilities. Further services could then be offered to more pregnant women and the sick. In addition, St Andrews Church aims to expand its education programme and renovate classrooms to offer hope and a future to the refugee children. | World Mission Council | £103,019.39 |
| | Growing with Care – Sunflower Garden Project How can a garden help children affected by drug misuse in their family? Around 50,000 children in Scotland are affected by drug misuse in their family. The Sunflower Garden is an indoor play area with a painted courtyard for safe outdoor activities based at Simpson House in Edinburgh. It aims to support children living in these circumstances by providing play therapy, children's groups, infant massage, counselling for parents and parents' groups. With Guild support, fewer of these children will become adults who misuse drugs. The project will produce research to identify effective ways of working with these families. This information will shape the future of child and family drug services in Scotland. | Social Care: CrossReach | £173,597.48 |

| Supporting Homeless Scots - London Every day a homeless person seeks Borderline's help. As the Church of Scotland London Advisory Service's project to support homeless and insecurely housed Scots in London, Borderline helps vulnerable Scots find a way forward by offering a range of services including access to accommodation, information, advice and support. We liaise with London and Scottish agencies to find the best solution for each individual. With the Guild's help, we can find more accommodation; we can produce a booklet that tells people where to find help in London and Scotland; we can develop more partnerships; we can launch an 'ambassador' scheme for volunteers to work on our behalf in Scotland and we can set up a unique scheme to offer rent deposits across Scotland and in London. Most of all, we can help those who wish to return home to Scotland. | Borderline | £149,361.05 |
| Action for the Adivasi - Bangladesh This Christian Aid project supports some of the poorest people in the world. In northern Bangladesh, the Adivasi, or tribal people, have traditionally lived in the forest and survived by hunting and gathering food. However, some of them have lost their land, often by being tricked out of it, and so survival is difficult. Their children suffer from very high levels of malnutrition. Through CA's partner, the Christian Commission for Development in Bangladesh (CCDB), thousands of peoples have been supported by a range of initiatives. With the Guild's help, CCDB will be able to expand their nutrition projects, improve water and sanitation provision and increase education for the children. CCDB also work to help people make the best use of the land they have and even to get back some of the land they have lost. | Christian Aid | £96,145.43 |

| | Beyond the Blues – Bluebell Project Postnatal Depression is a debilitating illness affecting around 11,000 women in Scotland annually. It leaves mothers feeling guilty and isolated in the belief that everybody else is coping. Despite the fact this is an illness which responds well to treatment, the stigma and the fear of telling others, means that postnatal depression and its associated problems are one of the major causes of death for mothers within a year of childbirth. The Postnatal Depression Project delivers counselling and support in Lothian and Borders, but this support is not available in other parts of the country. The Bluebell campaign aims to raise awareness, and help develop services nationally. With the help of the Guild, we can deliver support to women, who at a time they expect to be happy, often feel they have little left to live for. | CrossReach – Social Care Council | £137,854.88 |
| | Walking in the Light – Nigeria TLMs Orthopaedic Project is based in Chanchago, Minna, in the Niger State of Nigeria. The project aims to improve the quality of life for people affected by leprosy through the provision of protective footwear and other orthopaedic appliances, preventing further deterioration and the very real impairments they suffer. The project also involves training staff in orthopaedic appliance making and co-ordinating supplies. This is a vital aspect of TLM's work in offering people affected by leprosy and other disabilities the ability to walk again and work to support their families which increases their self-esteem and their role in their communities. With Guild help, the project will become self-sustaining over the next 3 years. As we seek to minister in the name of Jesus, we will have a spiritual impact on the lives of those we care for and help them to 'walk in the light'. | The Leprosy Mission Scotland | £134,375.41 |

New church and community projects are planned and advanced at gatherings/events arranged by the Lydia Project; they share best practice and create joint projects of practical work with street & HIV/AIDS children, abused and trafficked women, unemployed people, refugees from regional wars, Roma families, pensioners and orphans or youth with no future. The Guild’s support will enable opportunities, that will not otherwise happen, for women to develop new partnerships; with each other and other deprived groups. Mutual encouragement, learning and inspiration, sometimes between women of countries that have been enemies, strengthens the ability to establish new work (after decades of state control) with people who were devastated by radical social and economic change. | Lydia Project | £115,116.30 |
| | Touching the Untouchables – India SLA cares for destitute, orphan children in Tuni, Andhra Pradesh, India, by feeding, clothing, housing and educating them. It developed in 1999 from an outreach activity by the youth group at Greenbank Parish Church, Edinburgh. Most of the children have tragic life histories, are Dalits (‘Untouchable’, bottom of the Caste System) and before coming to the SLA project, survived by scavenging in rubbish tips or begging and were being exploited. Dalits remain ostracised by much of Indian society and are denied basic human rights. Extreme weather, chronic drought and poverty create an intolerable struggle for them and AIDS is endemic in the region. The resulting high mortality rate leaves many children abandoned. So far SLA has given hope to 370 children by building a school, clinic and home for them. With the Guild’s support this work can be expanded and more children enabled to escape the poverty trap. | Scottish Love in Action | £166,084.73 |

With the active involvement of The Guild, we hope to extend our work in a world currently encountering a major crisis in the provision of food. With global demand for basic foodstuffs growing each year, prices are rising dramatically, forcing many of the world's poorest people to go without meals. For families struggling with HIV, this represents a real threat to health, and even to life, as a reliable source of good food is essential for life-saving antiretroviral drugs to work. The project aims to fund church-based initiatives which will help those infected and affected by HIV to become more self-sufficient, through income-generation schemes leading to greater food security, providing new hope for some of the world's most vulnerable and overlooked people. | HIV/AIDS Project (CofS) | £112,580.87 |

Covert investigations are carried out by experienced professionals, who then work with IJM lawyers to get the police to free the victims and arrest and prosecute the traffickers so that they cannot continue to victimise people. The work is difficult and sometimes dangerous. In 2007, worldwide, IJM was able to free 207 from forced prostitution. In Cambodia, on which the Guild project focuses, there are over 30,000 girls and young women who have been forced into prostitution and are detained against their will. Some are as young as five. In the first year of the project, IJM Cambodia aims to rescue 65 girls and return them to their families or provide whatever aftercare they need. | International Justice Mission | £166,074.28 |
| | A Place for Hope (UK) Conflict is an inescapable part of life, whether in Church or in wider society. The Ministries Council has been highlighting the need to work in partnership with others to help individuals, congregations and communities resolve their differences and restore relationships. As part of this, we are looking to establish an ecumenical Centre for Reconciliation and Peacemaking – A Place for Hope – in Scotland. Through this, churches can begin to re-establish their role within society as peacemakers and healers. A Place for Hope will help people to address conflict within the Church and beyond. Where sectarianism divides, neighbourhoods struggle with racial division, grinding poverty highlights social inequality, families torn apart by violence, A Place for Hope will offer resources for healing, reconciliation and lasting change. Through this project, the good news of Jesus Christ as reconciler, mediator and peacemaker can bring hope to our churches and communities in life-changing ways. | Ministries Council (CofS) | £100,177.25 |

| | Mission Run (Madagascar) Madagascar is the world's fourth largest island, but also one of the poorest. Travel is measured in days and weeks rather than minutes and hours. Lack of infrastructure makes travel difficult for organisations trying to help people physically and spiritually. With few roads and mountainous, jungle-covered terrain, flying is the only quick and safe way to travel. MAF are committed to working in partnership and support from the Guild for this project which will enable more work to be undertaken in isolated parts of Madagascar. Regular monthly shuttles, with our aircraft being based remotely, will allow them to undertake shorter local flights, and allow our partners to carry out their work more efficiently and cost-effectively. Normally unable to benefit from MAF's services, the Church in Madagascar will now be able to join flights and reach more people with the Gospel. | Mission Aviation Fellowship | £143,736.15 |
| | Interfaith support (Israel/Palestine) The Guild's theme for 2009-2012 presents Christians everywhere with one of the most fundamental challenges for the application of their faith. Over the years, the WMC has encountered this challenge as it has worked with Christian churches in, for example, India, the Caribbean and in Africa. Today it meets this challenge directly in its work in Israel and Palestine. As the prospect of some resolution of the conflict in the region ebbs and flows, it becomes ever more necessary to support those who refuse to accept the inevitability of conflict, and the impossibility of any reconciliation. Through its contacts with the Christian, Jewish and Muslim communities in Israel and Palestine, the World Mission Council offers the Guild an opportunity to support the work of Reconciliation, by helping it to become better informed, by making available ways of providing support, and by offering to assist Guild members to visit and meet those involved in the Projects. | World Mission Council (CofS) | £102,737.04 |
